Bio

Energy strategist with focus on innovation, passionate for tackling climate change. Experience at multinational enterprises and early stage start-ups, across 6 countries around the world.

What was your first job?

Printed circuit board designer at a family business in Turkey as part of the IAESTE internship program.

What was your best job?

My current one – Leading the digital transformation of energy management and the increase of renewable electricity usage for over 68,000 telecommunication sites across 9 countries.

What attracted you to mentoring?

I love to help others to reach their full potential and fulfil their dreams. It is an opportunity to give something back.

How do you see the future of start-up's in Greece?

Our islands offer a unique playground to drive innovation in the energy space and the start-up support network is growing. We can make the future as bright and green as it gets 😊

What would you fill an empty pool with?

Ideas and energy... to bring them to fruition!
