Bio

Commercial expert with a passion for digital energy and beyond commodity business models, NGO co-founder, behavioural economics enthusiast / author.

What was your first job?

Marketing in a US cabling company in the UK. I had to complete a work placement as part of my undergrad degree.

What was your best job?

Always tempted to answer the next one! But in this case, I will say 2018-19 was a pivotal year for me, running a corporate transformation project in Abu Dhabi.

What attracted you to mentoring?

I guess it could be a residue from my academic years, but I am a sucker for the romantic idea of helping the younger generation.

How do you see the future of start-up’s in Greece?

Greece has all the ingredients for disrupting the energy industry – amazing engineers, tech wizards and finance gurus – the only thing we need to build is entrepreneurial culture.

What would you fill an empty pool with?

Blue M&M’s! Why not? Not the plain ones though... I always go for the ones with the peanut inside!
